Dear Alumni and Friends,

The evolution of ancient volcanic activity beneath the sea, sculpted by waves and wind over millennia, created the enchanting islands of Tahiti and her sisters, idyllic in their carved intricacies: majestic peaks emerging from emerald green jungles, chalk-white atolls and beryl-blue lagoons.

There is no better way to experience this paragon of paradise than under the billowing white sails of an elegant yacht. During this nine-night land and sea sojourn, explore the resplendent Society Islands, which have beckoned explorers, travellers, artists and writers for centuries. Enjoy two nights (air schedules permitting) in colourful Pape’ete, Tahiti, and seven nights sailing aboard the Five-Star Wind Spirit, specifically designed to cruise the crystal-clear aquamarine waters of the South Pacific, where incredible marine life thrives.

The Five-Star, 74-Stateroom Wind Spirit provides unmatched small ship sailing amidst the unparalleled beauty of the Society Islands. During this intimate cruise, enjoy complimentary features, including all shipboard gratuities; complimentary alcoholic and nonalcoholic beverages served throughout the ship, at every lunch and dinner and replenished in your Stateroom throughout the cruise; complimentary watersports; and a specially arranged excursion included on every island.

Cultural enrichment abounds in the captivating natural environment of French Polynesia. On the islands of Tahiti, Huahine, Ra’iatea, Tahá’a, Bora Bora and Mo’orea, visit ancient marae, tour a vanilla plantation and learn more about Polynesia’s unique history, environment and culture. You can observe—and even snorkel or swim with—stingrays, lagoon sharks and colourful fish and breathe in the fresh fragrances of vanilla, gardenia and jasmine that delicately permeate the island air.

Join us for this splendid opportunity featuring round-trip air included from Los Angeles’ and Low Air Add-Ons’ from select U.S. cities. Enjoy the Five-Star Wind Spirit sailing its home waters amidst the unspoiled, tropical islands of the South Pacific. This program sells out quickly, so book now while space and Early Booking Savings are still available!

Sincerely,

Guy Larocque
Executive Director, University of Saskatchewan Alumni Association

Included air from Los Angeles and Low Air Add-Ons may be offered only until September 27, 2018, and have limited availability and are not guaranteed.
U.S./Pape’ete, Tahiti
Tuesday and Wednesday, February 5 and 6
Depart Los Angeles for lively Pape’ete, the cosmopolitan capital of French Polynesia, located on a natural harbour cooled by trade winds and set against a backdrop of verdant, forest-clad peaks. This breathtaking gateway to the South Pacific is complemented by the cultures of its people, a vibrant blend of native Tahitian, French and Chinese.

Upon arrival, check into the ideally located, Five-Star InterContinental Tahiti Resort and Spa. Wednesday, explore Pape’ete on your own and return to the resort for the evening’s Welcome Reception.

Pape’ete
Thursday, February 7
Travel along Tahiti’s west coast, and tour the Museum of Tahiti and Her Islands, where significant archaeological finds trace the island’s ecology and customs. Walk through the sacred Arahurahu Marae, Polynesia’s only fully restored marae (temple), and the beautifully landscaped Spring Garden of Vaipahi. In this tranquil haven of 75 different plant species, a natural waterfall flows through gardens flanked by tropical flowers and canopied by a lush tangle of precious mape (chestnut) and pine wood vines.

Embark the Wind Spirit and attend the Captain’s Welcome Reception on board this evening.

Mo’orea
Friday, February 8
James A. Michener once wrote that Mo’orea, the remnant of a long-extinct volcano, was a “monument to the prodigal beauty of nature”; the heart-shaped island inspired his unforgettable Tales from the South Pacific and stirred famous visitors including Captain Cook in 1777 and Herman Melville in 1842.

Drive through a landscape of ancient volcanic peaks, and stop at Belvedere Point for an unforgettable panoramic view of the impressive Mount Rotui and the crystalline waters of Cook and Opunohu Bays.

Impressive temples evoke Mo’orea’s Polynesian heritage while European churches underscore its role as a centre for 19th-century missionary activity, and contemporary islanders continue the ways of their forefathers, farming pineapples and papayas and crafting fine art from seashells and indigenous wood. Learn more about the interplay between the culture and the ecosystem at the Richard B. Gump Pacific Research Station and Atitia Outreach Centre. Following spectacular views of the lagoon at the Toatea Lookout, board the ship for an enriching lecture by naturalist Frank Murphy from the Research Station. Enjoy an afternoon at leisure for snorkelling opportunities in Mo’orea’s turquoise lagoons.

Ra’iatea
Saturday, February 9
In the pre-colonial era, Ra’iatea served as the political and spiritual centre of the Society Islands and was beloved by Captain Cook, who called here on each of his three voyages. It was the hub for the colonization of Hawaii, the Marquesas and New Zealand, and according to local legend, the birthplace of Oro, god of war and fertility. Visit well-preserved Marae Taputapuatea, constructed of coral and black volcanic rock. Aboard a motorized vaa (outrigger canoe), cruise upstream along Ra’iatea’s serene Fa’aroa River, the only navigable river in Polynesia, as it threads through a realm of wild hibiscus, bamboo and Tahitian chestnut trees.

Gather on deck for a barbecue under the “ash-blue sky alive with stars,” as Henri Matisse described the Tahitian night.

Tahaa
Sunday, February 10
Tahaa is dominated by the profile of Mount Ohiri, named for Hiro, the Polynesian god of sailors and thieves. Today, harvesting the world’s most flavourful vanilla beans and the region’s distinctive black pearl oysters provide the islanders’ livelihoods. Gain a deeper understanding of traditional Polynesian agriculture as you tour the fragrant grounds of a vanilla plantation.

Visit a farm where lustrous black pearls are meticulously cultivated underwater. Savour a specially arranged barbecue on a private motu (islet), where you can also swim, snorkel or kayak.

Bora Bora
Monday and Tuesday, February 11 and 12
Bora Bora is the proverbial vision of a South Seas paradise—its black basalt peaks cloaked in a thick tropical forest and silhouetted against turquoise waters. Alongside glittering Fa’ānu’i Bay, see the ceremonial site of the Fare Opu marae adorned with petroglyphs of turtles—a sacred creature in ancient Polynesia—and keep an eye out for bunkers constructed by American soldiers during World War II.

The islanders of Bora Bora have preserved the ways of their forebears and still wear the colourfully hand-dyed pareo (sarong). In the forested interior, villagers cultivate breadfruit, coconuts and taro; preserve the ancient ruins of stone marae; and respect the legacy of ancestral Polynesian deities. Learn about the art of dyeing the traditional Polynesian pareo and taste some of the island’s abundant fruits.

From a lookout point, admire Bora Bora’s highest peak, Mount Otemanu, perched like a natural beacon over the “Pearl of the Pacific”; then enjoy time at leisure to explore the island.

A glittering azure lagoon of tiny motus and white sand beaches surround the island of Tahaa.
An optional excursion cruises the island's iridescent lagoon to encounter graceful stringrays, black-tipped lagoon sharks and a coral garden where parrotfish, butterfly fish and triggerfish flourish. Dinner Monday night will be an authentic Polynesian feast on a private motu.

Huahine

Wednesday, February 13

Idyllic Huahine consists of two islands—Huahine-Nui (big) and Huahine-Iti (small)—separated by a deep blue bay and ringed by a coral atoll. Aboard an open-air “Le Truck,” ride between the ocean and a woodland of towering mape trees draped with sweet-scented vanilla vines to the settlement of Maeva, the ancient religious centre of Huahine-Nui and the densest concentration of archeological sites in Polynesia. See 10 marae, built in the 16th century of locally quarried stone. Here, the terrain is terraced by former homes and fortification walls, while the roots of a colossal banyan tree entwine one end of the ahu (altar).

Enjoy a beautiful vista of the gleaming Bay of Maroe and lofty Mount Turi. Stop in the picturesque village of Fare, to see blue-eyed river eels considered sacred by locals.

After an afternoon at leisure, attend the Captain's Farewell Reception.

Pape’ete, Tahiti

Thursday, February 14

Disembark the ship and explore the east coast of Tahiti. Visit the former home of American author James Norman Hall, best known for Mutiny on the Bounty, and admire Tahiti’s only lighthouse at Point Venus, named for the observatory Captain Cook established here in 1769. Day-room accommodations have been reserved in the InterContinental Tahiti Resort and Spa.

This evening, transfer to the airport to continue on to the Bora Bora Post-Program Option or board your flight home.

U.S.

Friday, February 15

Tahiti, “Queen of the Pacific,” and her sister islands—Huahine, Taha’a, Bora Bora, Ra’iatea and Mo’orea—have captivated many, including Captain Cook, who returned twice after his initial landing in 1769, and Master Impressionist Paul Gauguin, who famously abandoned his career in France for life among the Polynesians.

Contemporary Tahitian society was born of its indigenous population, first settled by mariners from Samoa around 2000 B.C.; among the finest sailors in the world, these people voyaged from Southeast Asia and used the sun, stars, tides and flight patterns of birds as their compass to make their way across the sea. The Society Islands became inhabited shortly thereafter; Tahiti’s first European visitor, Captain Samuel Wallis, arrived in 1767, and French explorer Louis de Bougainville followed the year after. The Chinese also came to Tahiti during the late 19th century, furthering the island’s diverse cultural blend.

In the South Pacific, aqua- and agricultural preservation is woven into everyday life. The island’s industries are synonymous with its land and heritage—luminous black pearls are proudly harvested and worn, and the traditional cultivation of vanilla beans, opra (dried coconut) and shellfish is carried through generations. Discover Polynesia through its time-honoured culture and romantic scenery. The essence of the islands awaits.

The pristine, sparkling waters of French Polynesia provide incredible snorkelling opportunities.
